CP80 in 2007

2007 was an important year in the fight against pornography:

- On February 23 Governor Jon Huntsman of Utah signed HCR 3, a resolution authored by CP80 and sponsored by Representative Brad Daw, urging Congress to do something about Internet pornography.
- In July, CP80 revamped its website to help you get involved and make a difference in the fight against pornography. Visit the new Get Involved, Action Center, and Resources pages and tell your friends about CP80!
- In August, CP80 presented each day at a week long conference on the campus of Brigham Young University in educating hundreds of people from around the country about the dangers of the Internet.
- In September, CP80 was invited to present to more than 300 people in Mesa, Arizona. State legislators said they will sponsor CP80's state legislation; many attendees blogged about the event, spreading the word around the country.
- In November, CP80 attended the UN's Internet Governance Forum in Brazil. CP80 began working with representatives from several countries and NGOs to discuss strategies for implementing the zoning initiative around the world.

Thank you again for your support! Please let us know about your efforts to stand up and be heard in your own community! You can post your successes in the Share Your Story section of the website, or email them to info@cp80.org!

Sincerely,

The CP80 Foundation
